Foreword

No matter where we live in today's small world, it is not possible to ignore the unbidden changes in our lives and the fears and uncertainties of war. Out of this chaos is born a determination to return to ordered lives knowing we have met and overcome the conflicts and obstacles confronting us. We know that the knowledge and training we have received in Barnstable High will be prime factors in our personal carrying out of this determination. Now, out of 1944 we bring this Barnacle — a summing-up of six memory-bound years and an unforgettable period of our youth.

NOT in this picture, but very much members of the staff, are these hard-working members of the advertising group, without whose efforts this year-book could not have been self-supporting: Olga Manni, Nancy Daniel, Patricia Hansberry, Richard Scudder, Doris Alberghini, Lois Ryder, Priscilla Warren, James O'Neill, Mary Souza, and Aurelia Perry. Hester Barrus, Silja Manni, and Robert Whitney, in the picture above, are advertising committee members also.

IT was in the fall of 1938 that the class of '44 came like a wandering flock of sheep without its shepherd through the doors of B. H. S. At the time, it seemed hopeless that this wide-eyed, hesitant group could ever develop into the strong, confident class now leaving those same portals.

Gradually our class of one hundred fifty-eight members began to feel a part of the school and to participate in several activities: the band, with Winfield Person, Howard Marston, Gordon Dunham, Gordon Peavey, Marilyn Scudder, Philip Jerauld, and Barbara Brown representing us; and the orchestras, in which Margie Fisk, Hedwig Pocius, Barbara Brown, Nancy Daniel, Ellsworth Coleman, Sylvia Holmes, Robert Mitchell, Jean Blossom, Pat Hansberry, and Celina Buratti participated.

Five of our members were also in the annual Junior High Speaking Contest: Jean Blossom, Edith Johnson, Nancy Daniel, Philip Jerauld, and Angus Perry. Philip placed first and Edith second.

During the year several from our ranks took part in assemblies: Betty Goodall, Dick Scudder, John Johnson, Zenas Crocker, Priscilla Warren, and Nancy Daniel.

In 1939 we returned one hundred forty-four strong to find the two new wings of the building completed. There were numerous changes in the teaching staff and administration. Mr. Knight left us to become superintendent, after the death of Mr. Barr; whereupon Mr. Hodge stepped up into the office of principal, with Mr. Connor filling the position as vice-principal. Mr. Linehan, Mr. Broadbent, and Mrs. Barr were new members of the faculty.

We had ten musically-inclined members who played in the orchestra or band: Margie Fisk, Barbara Brown, Hedwig Pocius, Bob Mitchell, Nancy Daniel, Howard Marston, Winfield Person, Herbert Cahoon, Philip Jerauld, and Celina Buratti.

Nancy Daniel and Andrew Grammaticas became "les enfants" of the "Clipper" staff.

Entrants in the speaking contest included a rather large group from our class, of whom Philip Jerauld was placed first.

During the winter, six of our classmates, Hedwig Pocius, Quinneth Groop, Nancy Daniel, Ted Rosengren, Gilbert Newton, and Andrew Grammaticas were on a radio quiz program in Boston, where they were the guests of Miss Clark.

One hundred thirty-five of us started out, in 1940, to fulfill destiny's position of the missing link between junior and senior high. There in the 9th grade began our more intensive training for our various goals. The first indication of our new prestige as freshmen was the participation of members of our class in the varsity sports. Therese Mahoney, Gladys Calmas, and Mary Souza were members of the girls' hockey team. When basketball came into prominence, the girls eagerly responded, placing Sylvia Holmes, Doris Crocker, "Tres" Mahoney, Margie Fisk, Mary Souza, Betty Shepherd, and Barbara Levine on the court line-up. In baseball the boys of our class showed a lively interest in contributing Herbert Cahoon, Richard Law, and Ithel Drew for this sport.

During the Junior High Speaking Contest Jean Peterson, Angus Perry, Gladys Calmas, Nancy Daniel, and Sally Savery took part, and Angus won first prize; Sally Savery, second. Angus also participated in the National Forensic League Tournament.

This year Andrew Grammaticas, Nancy Daniel, and Hedwig Pocius were members of the "Clipper" staff, and Barbara Brown represented our class at the New England Music Festival.

When in the fall of '41 we returned to B. H. S., it was with anticipation, for this was the year in which we would begin to function as a self-governing body. To attain this end we elected Zenas Crocker, Quinneth Groop, Silja Manni, and Ted Rosengren to the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. We chose Margie Fisk and Andrew Grammaticas as our representatives on the Student Council. At our first meeting we elected Mr. MacSwan as our class adviser and under his guidance put on an informal after-school dance in the middle of the year.

In the meantime, sports again attracted many of our members. Bob Mitchell, George Coughlin, Fred McLane, Norman McLean, Manuel Gonsalves, Bill Smith, Charlie Kalas, Ithel Drew, and John Johnson gained places on the football squad; at the same time Gladys Calmas, Hester Barrus, Quinneth Groop, Therese Mahoney, and Jean Clowery won positions on the girls' hockey team. When basketball came around, on the girls' squad were Hester Barrus, Sylvia Holmes, Virginia Lewis, Dot Hansell, Hedwig Pocius, Barbara Levine, Mary Souza and Joanna Lopes. Richard Law, George Coughlin, Roger Goodspeed, Manuel Gonsalves and Herbert Cahoon turned out for baseball this year.

Members from our class in the band and orchestra were substantially the same persons as in the preceding year.

In March, Barbara Brown went to Keene, N. H., where she participated in the New England Music Festival. At about the same time Angus Perry again entered the National Forensic Tournament with a humorous declamation. There were several new additions to the "Clipper" staff from our class, including Margie Fisk, Priscilla Warren, Gladys Calmas, Quinneth Groop, Bob Mitchell, and Bill Robeson.

We returned in the fall of 1942 eager to greet once more our old comrades, now numbering one hundred seven, and evermore conscious of our status as "almost seniors." There came a great number of new faculty members that year, Miss Buckley, Mr. Burlingame, Miss Meehan, Miss Scudder, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Howes, and Mr. Levinson.

In October, we lost Mr. MacSwan to the Navy and elected in his place as our class adviser Miss Coffman.

Officers elected this year were: president, Zenas Crocker; vice-president, Philip Jerauld; secretary, Nancy Daniel; and treasurer, Ted Rosengren. Doris Crocker was elected Student Council representative.

Seven boys from our class were among those rugged lads comprising our football team: Percy Brown, Manuel Gonsalves, John Johnson, Charlie Kalas, Bob Mitchell, Bill Smith, and Dick Thompson. Among the vivacious cheerleaders rooting for these boys were Jean Peterson and Betty Shepherd.

Girls sports were heavily curtailed because of war-time conditions, but the boys formed their basketball squad with Zenas Crocker, Manuel Gonsalves, and Dick Thompson upholding the honor of the Junior Class. Upon the arrival of spring, Richard Law, Win Person, Bob Whitney, and Dick Thompson turned out for baseball, and Richard Scudder, Zenas Crocker, and Manuel Gonsalves became members of the track team, the latter two participating in the Belmont relays.

Several members of our class participated in the spring concert offered by the band and orchestra under the direction of Mr. Griffiths.

Sponsored by the American Legion, Nancy Daniel went to East Bridgewater, where she placed second in the Legion Oratorical Contest.

The "Clipper" staff was composed mostly of members of the class of '44. Andrew Grammaticas was editor-in-chief, aided by Priscilla Warren, Hedwig Pocius, Nancy Daniel, Gladys Calmas, Bob Whitney, Win Person, and Zenas Crocker.

Although war-time restrictions prevented any presentation of a Junior Class play this year, we succeeded in staging a memorable Junior Prom on May 21st, most of the credit for which goes to the able members of the committee, headed by Richard Scudder. Somewhat reluctantly we saw our career as "flighty Juniors" come to an end.

At last, in the fall of '43, we returned to B. H. S. sorely reduced to eighty-three in number but confidently setting out to reach the climactic goal of graduation. Of course, there was the usual grind of subjects, except for one change in the curriculum, which eliminated the general course and in its place introduced the merchandising course, an innovation of interest to many of us. Besides this new course, we were also continually meeting new faces among the faculty, including Miss Sutton, Miss Jones, Miss Shea, Mr. Stevenson, and Miss Jolikko. But to provide a change from the delightful (Remarks censored here!) schedule of homework, a desire for more social activities began to arise. Class elections were the starting point of this movement, resulting in Dick Scudder being installed as president, Margie Fisk as vice-president, Nancy Daniel as secretary, and Ted Rosengren as treasurer. Chosen as our final representative on the Student Council was Priscilla Warren.

Athletics soon became an engrossing part of activities, for Ithel Drew, Philip Jerauld, John Johnson, Bill Smith, Dick Thompson, and Bob Whitney showed a particular skill in football, our greatest victory in which was over Yarmouth in the big Thanksgiving game that resulted in the glorious score of 41-7, providing an appropriate finale to the season. At all these games, five of our classmates, Edith Johnson, Betty Shepherd, Jean Peterson, Margie Fisk, and Barbara Levine aroused everyone's enthusiasm with their cheers. Later came basketball, with "Lulu" Gonsalves and Dick Thompson more than holding their own on the squad. A fine showing of senior girls also greeted this season. Hester Barrus, Gladys Calmas, Margie Fisk, Dorothy Hansell, and Mary Souza, under the captainship of Sylvia Holmes, did their share in playing a completely victorious season. Congratulations to them and to Miss Nehubian! At the first sign of spring many of our boys were to be found on the baseball field. Bob Whitney, Win Person, Andrew Grammaticas, Bill Smith, Dick Thompson were our enthusiastic representatives.

In March the annual football banquet was held, at which the much-coveted Hinkle Trophy was awarded to Bill Smith for his outstanding sportsmanship.

Seniors also constituted an integral part of the school musical organizations this year. Many girls participated in the Glee Club and special Christmas chorus; and Barbara Brown, Philip Jerauld, Win Person, Bill Smith, Margie Fisk, Nancy Daniel, Bob Mitchell, James O'Neill, and James Balentine were members of either the band, or orchestra, or both.

In February our class sponsored a Valentine Dance, which gave pleasure and brought success, thanks to the committee, the nucleus of which was Ellsworth Coleman, Priscilla Warren, Bob Whitney, and Jean Peterson. Also held throughout the year were several Junior Red Cross dances, in the planning of which several of our classmates assisted, under the guidance of Miss Thoma.

In the fall, the traditional magazine campaign was carried on, having Margie Fisk and Sylvia Holmes as leaders of the Navy—the victorious—team, and Nancy Daniel and Natalie Souza as managers of the Army team.

During the year we were proud but very sorry to see Mr. Shields, Mr. Linehan, Mr. Bangs, Mr. Smith, and particularly Mr. Broadbent leave for service. To these and all other members of the faculty now serving the armed forces we wish to express our appreciation and hopes for their success. To their positions we welcomed Miss Harriet Chace, Mr. Luther Howes, Mr. Burgoyne, and Mr. Groves.

The class and faculty chose as the D. A. R. representative for this year Nancy Daniel, who also participated for a second year in the American Legion Oratorical Contest, held in Rockland.

In the middle of May the members of our class were the guests of honor at the Junior Prom. A little later we staged our social highlight, the current stage-hit, "Junior Miss," which brought to the lime-light the latent talent of the all-senior cast. Under the energetic direction of Miss Coffman the play was a success both financially and socially.

It hardly seems possible that these six years can have come to us and sped so swiftly by, leaving us prepared to face the turbulent and doubtful days ahead. But when we consider the good times enjoyed, the pleasant, deep friendships made, the progress and work accomplished, the inspiration and guidance of our teachers, and all the traditions of B. H. S., now an inseparable part of us, it is difficult to imagine how so much can have been crowded into so short a time. With genuine regret, we, the Class of 1944, prepare to leave the shelter of this school, entrusted with its ideals and principles to battle the storms and ride the victories of life. So prepared, how can we fail?

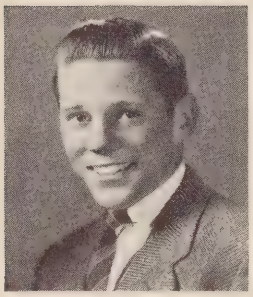
Class Officers



RICHARD SCUDDER
Hyannis

"Whether it is an I or a C, Bless me, I cannot tell."

Everyone knows Richard Murray Scudder as President of the Senior Class and as one of the best dancers in school. He is distinguished by his incomprehensible spelling and his laughable stuttering when he becomes excited. Dick spends much time in various musicals. He plans to go into the Maritime Academy in June.

Class President 4; Ring Committee 4; Senior Class Dance Committee 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3; Barnacle Staff 4; Advertising Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Football Squad 1, 3, 4; Track Squad 3, 4; Military Drill 3; Boxing 3; Interclass Basketball 4.

MARJORIE FISK
West Barnstable

"Oh, but for music and dancing how dull life would be!"

Margie, with her pleasant smile and lovable personality is known at school by everyone. She has a weakness for sundaes and banana splits but is on a strict (?) diet. Bouncing around in that famous beach wagon is proving to be an effective reducing exercise. Margie intends to go to Lowell State Teachers College to continue developing her very apparent musical ability.

Class Vice-President 4; Picture Committee 3; Valentine Dance Committee 4; Student Council 2, 3, 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Basketball Squad 1, 4; Clipper Staff 2; Cheerleader 4; Senior Play 4.

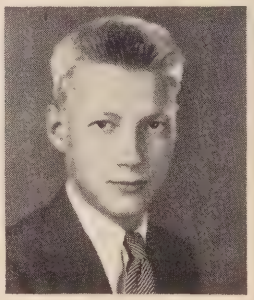
NANCY DANIEL
Osterville

"An outward and visible sign of inward spiritual grace."

Nancy, the one-person brain trust of the senior class, is only one member of a long line of brilliant Daniels who travel, black-haired or red-haired, but always swiftly and smilingly through B. H. S. corridors. Nancy will lend distinction to the nursing profession when she enters training for that career.

Class Secretary 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Barnacle Editor-in-Chief 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Clipper Staff 1, 2, 3; American Legion Oratorical Contest 3, 4; D. A. R. Representative 4; Magazine Campaign Manager 4.

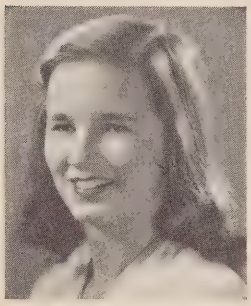
THEODORE ROSENGREN
Hyannis



"Bid him not stand with common minds."

"Teddy" is a silent man, but all the silence in the world can't hide his many talents. Ted, who was our class treasurer until he recently joined the Army Air Corps, was a good student and a conscientious worker in all activities. He claims to sleep in his spare time, but we'll wager that's not what he's doing for Uncle Sammy.

Class Treasurer 2, 3, 4; Ring Committee 3; Military Drill 3; Model Airplane Building 3, 4.

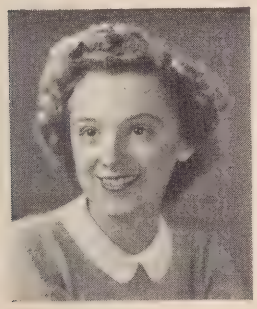


JANE AIKENS
Hyannis

"Style is the dress of thoughts."

"Janie" always looks as if she had stepped right out of Saks, Fifth Avenue, or Peck & Peck's. We hear that she has had a very good effect on one of our Barnstable lads. The change is amazing. "Janie" appears proud and haughty to those who do not know her, but those privileged few who do repudiate this idea and say she's the best of sports.

Junior Ring Committee 3; A A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; First Aid Class 3.

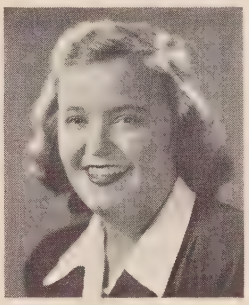


DORIS ALBERGHINI
Hyannis

"Life holds so many things:
Wisdom is her happiness."

Doris is a demure and dependable classmate. Always willing to help whenever she can do so, Doris has, besides, proved herself efficient by acquiring honor grades, even though her work takes up much of her time. After graduation she intends to attend a secretarial school in preparation for an office position.

A. A. 3.

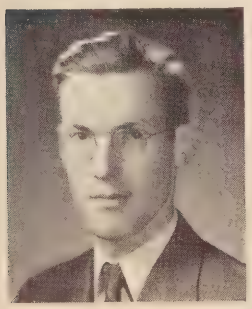


IRMA ALLEN
Hyannis

"I hate nobody; I am in charity with the world."

Irma's unruffled good nature accounts for her many friends. Having giggled her way merrily through high school, Irma will go on to nursing school.

A. A. 4; Glee Club 4; Red Cross Room Representative 4.

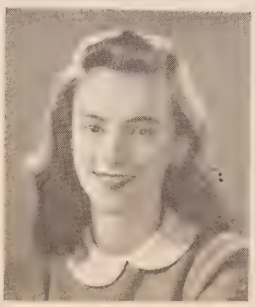


JAMES BALENTINE
Hyannis

"Wise to resolve and patient to perform."

James Balentine has been with us only in his senior year, but he has already distinguished himself by his quiet co-operation, subtle wit, proficiency in math, and silence in English.

Orchestra 4; Senior Play 4.

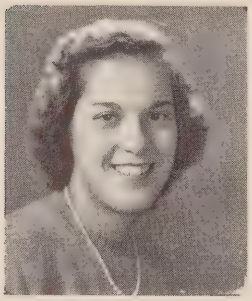


PHYLLIS BANKS
Hyannis

"Filled with goodness, filled with knowledge,
And a friend that deceiveth not."

Phyllis is a true friend and honor student. She has just recently started sporting a diamond and we sincerely hope that grinding her teeth in her dreams will not affect her marriage. Here's wishing to our quiet and observant typist the happiness she deserves!

A. A. 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Room Representative 3; Clipper Staff 3; Christmas Chorus 4; First Aid 3.

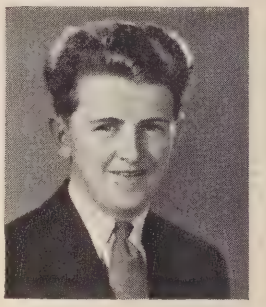


HESTER BARRUS
Barnstable

"To those who know thee not, no words can paint.
To those who know thee, all words are faint."

When one is sitting in a quiet class room and hears suddenly a long, raucous, and unique sneeze, Hester is surely present. When she is not having a good time in the school room, she will be found enjoying sports of every kind. "Het" plans to go into nurse's training after graduation.

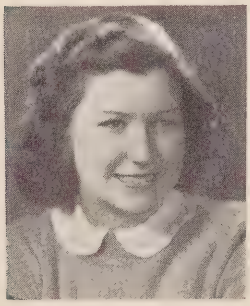
Dance Committee 4; A. A. 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Advertising Staff 4; Basketball Squad 2, 4; Hockey Squad 1, 2; Interclass Basketball 2; Interclass Hockey 1, 2.



RUSSELL BARTER
Hyannis

"Books — 'tis a dull and endless strife."

Russell, who has been a member of the practical arts course, is a very ardent supporter of all Barnstable High sports, though he hasn't participated in them. "Shorty" isn't certain what he is going to do after graduating, but we wish him, likable as he is, the best of luck.

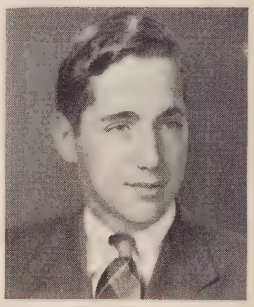


JEAN BLOSSOM
West Barnstable

"Her smile is sweetened by her gravity."

Every night after school Jean runs down to Gosselin's to work. She can tell you everything from "Mairzy Doats" to Beethoven's "Fifth" about records and song sheets. Jean's ability to get things done will be ever helpful to her in coming years when she is training to be nurse.

Band 2, 3, 4; Room Representative 1.

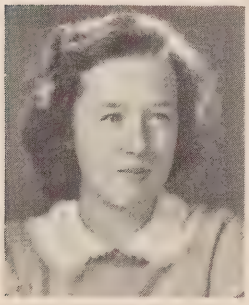


ARNOLD BOWEN
Centerville

"A man of strife — a man of contention."

"Buddy" is one of those independent fellows who won't be pushed around by anyone. Mechanics is one of his major interests, both in and out of school. His hobbies consist of radio and model airplanes, so we are certain that he will succeed in accomplishing his ambition: entering the Air Corps.

Clipper Advertising Staff 1, 2, 3.

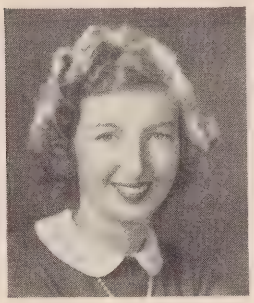


BARBARA BROWN
Barnstable

"Then let thy love be younger than thyself,
Or thy affection cannot hold the bent."

If all four of "Beebee's" sisters add as much to the musical reputation of B. H. S. as she has, Mr. Griffiths will ask for nothing more. Strictly off the record—you ought to hear her play boogie-woogie—solid, but def! "Beebee" intends to go to Lowell State Teachers College to continue her music. She is planning to be an instructor and who knows but what she may have her youngest sister as a pupil?

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; New England Music Festival 1, 2, 3; Special Music Class 1, 2.

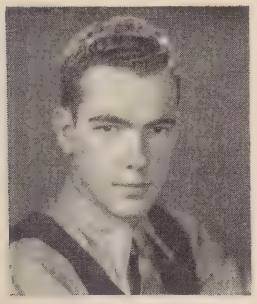


LOUISE BROWN
Cummaquid

"Happiness is not measured by words."

Louise is a quiet miss, whose hobbies are music and collecting post cards. Walking and music are her favorite pastimes. Louise plans to go into training to become a Navy Nurse. Best of luck to you on a well-chosen career!

A. A. 1, 2; Glee Club 3, 4.

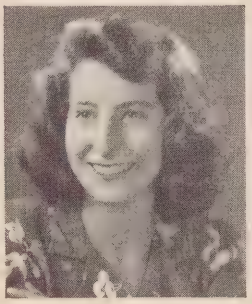


HERBERT CAHOON
Centerville

"Wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew."

"Herb" never forced his personality upon us, so we were slow to realize what a really excellent mind he has and how much quiet satisfaction he derives from his work well done. Whatever "Herb" decides to take up—carpentry, metalwork, or machinist's trade—he will do with skill.

Band 1; Baseball Squad 1, 2, 3, 4.



GLADYS CALMAS
Hyannis

"For every wherefore she had a why."

With her easy giggle and fearless opinions, Gladys has been one of our most colorful members, both in the classroom and in sports. And now for college, Gladys.

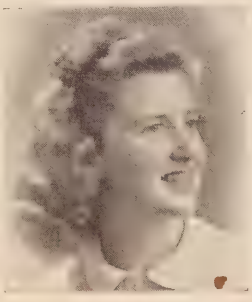
A. A. 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 3; Senior Dramatic Club 1, 2; Glee Club 4; Basketball 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3; Clipper Staff; Debating 2; Junior High Speaking Contest 1; First Aid Course 4.

GLORIA CHASE
Hyannis

"For this is wisdom: to love, to live
To take what fate, or the gods may give."

Poet, knitter, painter, stamp collector—variety is undoubtedly the spice of Gloria's life. Carefree, happy-go-lucky, she will make her way, bringing happiness to others.

A. A. 3, 4; Room Representative 4; First Aid 3.

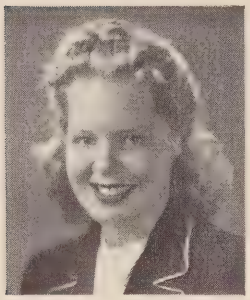


JEAN CLOWERY
Barnstable

"My heart is like a singing bird."

Jean is known about school for her beautiful soprano voice and her red hair. Her singing ability is always apparent, for she participates on all musical occasions. To round out her career, she plans to attend Cape Cod Secretarial School after graduation.

A. A. 1, 2, 3; Senior Dramatic Club 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Basketball Squad 1, 2, 3; Home Nursing 4; Operetta 2; Minstrel Show 1, 2; Junior Class Play Committee ('43) 3.



DORIS CROCKER
Barnstable

"Ah, you flavour everything; you are the vanilla of society."

We are all familiar with Doris's blush, which seems to bother her a great deal. However, this and other assets make us like her all the more. Doris is planning to work this summer and then to continue her education at Junior College next fall.

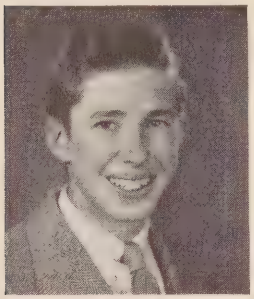
Cap and Gown Committee 4; Student Council 3, 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Basketball 1, 2.

ERNESTINE CROCKER
Centerville

"Cheerfulness is as friendly to the mind as to the body."

Hidden beneath Ernestine's quiet exterior and cheerful mien lies a surprising abundance of wittiness. She loves home life, but at the present time is intent on becoming a nurse, wherein her friendliness will be a prime asset.

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Room Representative 4; Special Christmas Chorus 3; Junior Red Cross Council Dance Committee 4.



ZENAS CROCKER
Osterville

"We could have better spared, sir knight, some other man."

All of us felt the loss when Zenas left last fall to enter Chauncy Hall for special preparation for M. I. T. As a class president Zenas was capable and tolerant; as a classmate he was a good citizen, a conscientious student, and a gentleman to be admired.

Class President 2, 3; Tennis Squad 2; Track 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee 3; Clipper Staff 2, 3.

SALLY DEAN
Hyannis

"Since when was genius found respectable?"

Sally is the one to provide the class with a little humor now and then, mostly now. Our perpetual "live wire" is slightly prejudiced against school work, but she takes even that in her amusing stride. Sally intends to work in the telephone office after graduation. She'll be a howling success!

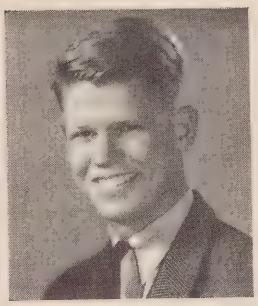
A. A. 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1; Baseball Squad 1, 2; Hockey Squad 1, 2; Clipper Staff 3, 4.

ROBERT DOANE
Cotuit

"Merrily shall I live now."

As anyone who knows him can aver, "Buddy" is a synonym for grit, and though he seems quiet, he loves a good time, maintaining night life to be his main hobby. "Bud" plans to enter the service on graduating, yet has a postwar eye on radio

Picture Committee 3; Model Airplane Building 3; Military Drill 3.



ITHEL DREW
Hyannis

"The lion is not so fierce as painted."

One seeing "Ike" for the first time might take him for a quick-tempered bucko. However, one could never be more mistaken, for "Ike" is among the quietest, best-natured boys of the class. Moreover, he has a real fighting spirit, as anyone who knows of the handicap he overcame to make the football squad can testify.

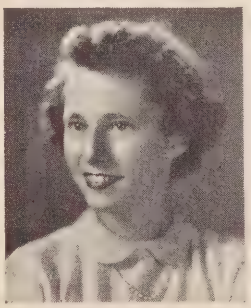
Football Squad 2, 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

OLGA FERMINO
Santuit

"Few things are impossible to diligence and skill."

Olga's quiet efficiency and her placid way in all that she undertakes make us certain that she will fit perfectly that defense job for which she has been training.

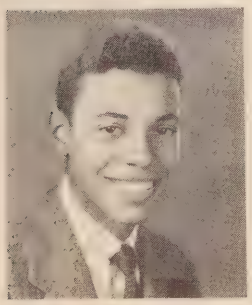
Basketball 2; Cap and Gown Committee 4.



HOPE GIFFORD
Cotuit

"Hang sorrow! Care'll kill a cat."

Hope tells us that she's always saying the wrong thing at the wrong time, but to judge by the steady flow of mail, Jimmie doesn't think so. Hope intends to go to a domestic arts school in Boston, and then, after the war to live in Missouri.



MANUEL GONSALVES
Hyannis

"There is nought so plentiful as time."

A person seeing six-foot-two "Manny" making his unhurried way through the corridors would little guess what a marvel he is on the basketball court. Yet true it is! Even while helping the team to victory ably and rolling up the score he still has seemed to do it with leisurely ease.

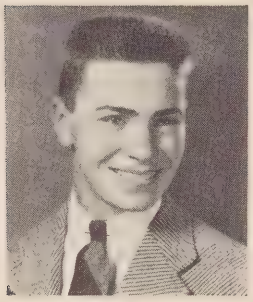
Basketball 3, 4; Track 3; Football 3.

BETTY GOODALL
Cotuit

"I will not refuse to do the something that I can do."

With sober certainty Betty planned her future and the best of it is coming true already: she has been awarded a full scholarship to Massachusetts State by 4H in competition with girls from all over New England. An active member of the Junior Red Cross Council, she deserves much credit for her original poster work we see so often about the school.

Senior Dramatic Club 2; Home Room Representative 3, 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; Secretary of Junior Red Cross Council 4.



MERTON GOODALL
Hyannis

"And then to soar on silver wing."

"Mert" Goodall has been a good sport in all his undertakings. His hobbies are camera work and hunting, and he is well known for his good taste in clothes. He plans to fly in the Army Air Corps after he leaves school.

Senior Class Dance Committee; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Football Squad 4; Military Drill 3, 4; Model Airplane Building 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

ANDREW GRAMMATICAS
Hyannis

"How forcible are right words."

Andy has been known throughout his school career as a very conscientious student, and has always been willing to do his share with a smile. He has planned to go to Annapolis upon graduating from school.

DOROTHY HANSELL
Hyannis

"Her thoughts are strained not with the cares of the world."

Dot and "Oh, you know" go hand in hand, but all in all we find she's a real sport to know. She really took basketball games in full spirit. Though she is an efficient telephone operator now, she intends to be a secretary after graduation.

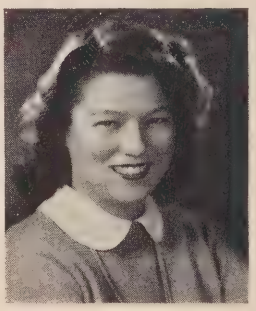
A. A. 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Basketball Squad 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3.

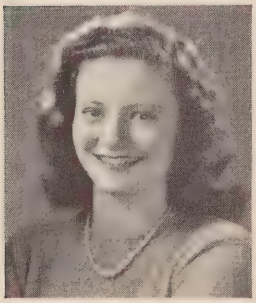
BARBARA HOLMES
Hyannis

"Fair words never hurt the tongue."

Barbara's quiet manner and shy voice make her no enemies, only friends. She plans to be a Navy nurse. Well, her amiable traits will be appreciated by all the lads in blue.

Band 1, 2; Glee Club 4.



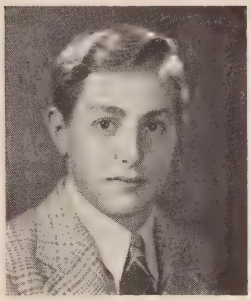


SYLVIA HOLMES
Barnstable

"Diana's charm and Juno's height do become thee well."

We'll all remember Sylvia for her spontaneous enthusiasm as captain of our basketball team and for her contagious cheerfulness. Her ambition is to become a model—and with the many assets she possesses, she must surely attain this goal.

A. A. 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Basketball Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Assistant Manager of Magazine Campaign 4; First Aid 3.



PHILIP JERAULD
Barnstable

"Behind a frowning countenance, he hides a shining face."

"Drummer boy" kept time in B. H. S. in more ways than one. His good-natured grin and subtle remarks have made him renowned among his classmates. Despite lack of stature, "Phippy" will surely win distinction as a member of the Navy Air Corps.

EDITH JOHNSON
West Barnstable

"I am fearfully and wonderfully made."

A born flirt, Edie uses her advantage among our B. H. S. boys and teachers. Because of her cuteness, Edie is often called "Doll Face" and "Blondie," but, strangely enough, she resents these tributes to her charm. Judging from her ability to hold the attention of B. H. S. and opposing teams, we are sure Edie will make her way in the world.

JOHN JOHNSON
Centerville

"The wrong way always seems the more reasonable."

Johnny's staunch support of the football team and his constant humor have made him our happy-go-lucky Swede. His hobby is hunting, so he expects after graduation to hunt bigger game when he joins the Signal Corps.

ANN JONES
Hyannis

"Oh, she is blithe and bonnie and gay."

"Jonesey" is our B. H. S. butterfly right down to her manner of flitting from class to class with nary a care. With her ever-ready wit and laughter always in evidence, Ann is "tops" among all her many friends.

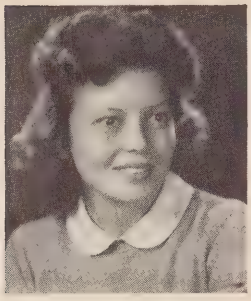
A. A. 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Interclass Hockey 1; Special Chorus 3; Christmas Chorus 4.

GERTRUDE JONES
Hyannis

"Fair and softly goes far."

Gert's petiteness and friendly nature are her outstanding charms, always in evidence. Her third finger left hand is now taken care of, so Gert's good cooking and sewing won't be going to waste.

A. A. 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4.



EDNA LAHTEINE
West Barnstable

"Whose little body lodged a mighty mind."

Beneath a disguise of shyness, Edna hides a brilliant mind, which, together with her unassuming manner, will make her a proficient teacher.

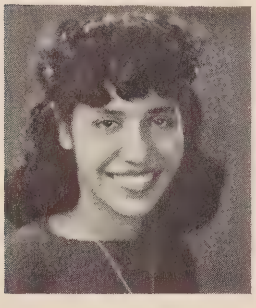
Glee Club 3, 4.

BARBARA LEVINE
Hyannis

"Then she will talk! Ye gods! How she will talk!"

Never a dull moment for Barbara as long as talking isn't rationed. She likes to read good books and is interested in all kinds of sports. Barbara intends to work after graduation in the business field.

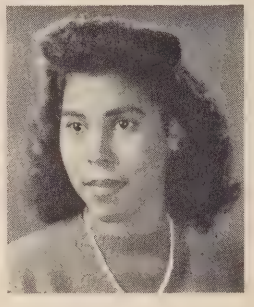
Valentine Dance Committee 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball Squad 1, 2; Cheerleader 4.



FLORENCE LIGHTFORD
Hyannis

"A still small voice."

"Flo" has a very quiet and refined manner which will be a big help to her in her future ambition: being a social worker. But the reserved side is not all; we hear that Florence is an accomplished and enthusiastic jitterbug.

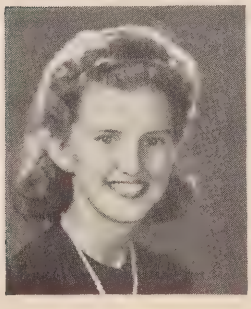


JOANNA LOPES
Hyannis

"Between jest and earnest."

Any impression of bashfulness that Joanna makes on one is just skin deep. After one gets beneath her demure reserve, Joanna is really "solid," especially in jitterbugging. She is going to shorten the war by giving Uncle Sam a lift soon in some war plant.

Basketball 2; First Aid 3.

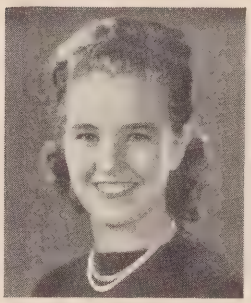


THELMA LOVEQUIST
Centerville

"My man's as true as steel."

Apparently carefree and oblivious of the rest of the world, Thelma rarely lets anything bother her. How her thoughts pop out in class most unexpectedly! Whether she continues her musical career or becomes a hairdresser, we wish her the best of luck.

Dance Committee 4; A. A. 1, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; First Aid 3.



THERESE MAHONEY
Hyannis

"Blessed, among other things, with Irish wit and blarney."

Ever ready with a comeback, "Tres" has provided many a lighter moment in the class room and, by her lively personality, many a good time outside. Best of luck to you in nursing, "Tres"!

OLGA MANNI
West Barnstable

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Olga always looks neat and charming, which is a major asset to any lawyer's secretary. Her winning smile and courtesy have rated her a high standing among both teachers and pupils. With all these qualities, plus efficiency in business, Olga should become an A1 secretary.

SILJA MANNI
West Barnstable

"The most certain sign of wisdom is continual cheerfulness."

Enthusiasm in everything she does accounts for Silja's wide circle of friends. Her fervent school spirit and unrelenting support of it have made her an active worker in contributing much to our class.

ROBERT MITCHELL
Hyannis

"The canvas glowed beyond even Nature's warmth."

Bob has been an outstanding member of Miss Jones's art class, always generously contributing his abilities whenever needed. After completing a job in the Navy, Bob plans to launch into commercial art, at which he will, we are sure, have a "colorful" career.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Football Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Clipper Staff 2; Operetta 1.

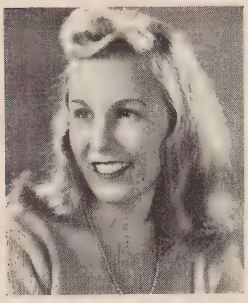
ANNA MONTEIRO
Osterville

"The tongue can no man tame."

Anna is one of our machine shop course pupils who would much rather manage a two-ton lathe than speak before a class. She is so enamored of sitting in beauty parlors that she intends to go to a school for beauticians after having helped Uncle Sam on her promised defense job.

Hockey Squad 1.



LOUISE MURPHY
Hyannis

"There is a wide variety in fashions."

Fragile—Do not touch! That certainly applies to Louise. She is also an artistic-minded member of the class and intends to do fashion designing and illustrating after graduation. Realizing how well Louise does in that field now, we are sure she will do still better. At the moment she is helping the war effort by sending her pleasant voice over the wires as a telephone operator.

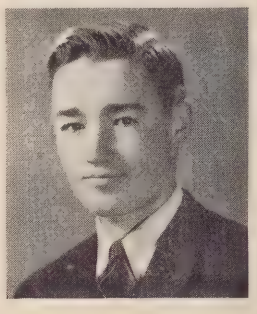
A. A. 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 3; Hockey Squad 3.

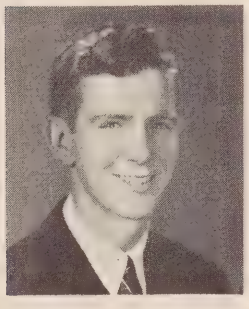
GILBERT NEWTON
Cotuit

"Think only what concerns thee and thy being."

Another silent man, Gil is an even-tempered, amiable person who likes fun, feminine company, and electricity. He can golf with a better-than-average score. "Gil" is, moreover, an excellent mechanic, possessing ability that will be a valuable asset when he joins the Navy.

Cap and Gown Committee 4; Golf Squad 1, 2; Military Drill 3; Model Airplane Building 3, 4.





JAMES O'NEILL
Marstons Mills

"I am escaped by the skin of my teeth."

Jimmy was a newcomer to our school last year. However, his gay mood and friendly manner have made him many acquaintances, and his enthusiastic work as a member of the Barnacle Advertising Staff has gained our admiration.

Orchestra 3, 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4.

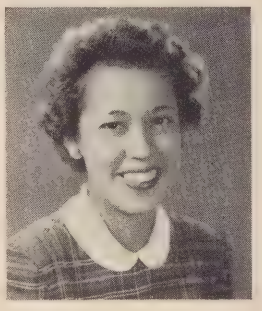
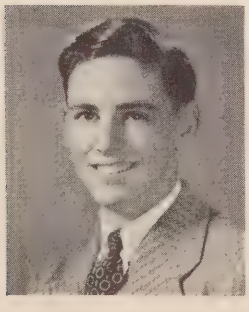
AUDREY PELLS
Cotuit

"I call a fig a fig, a spade a spade."

With her droll, outspoken remarks accompanied by an infectious grin, Audrey is one of our wry humorists, whose vivacity will aid her much in anything she does.

A. A. 4; Glee Club 3, 4.



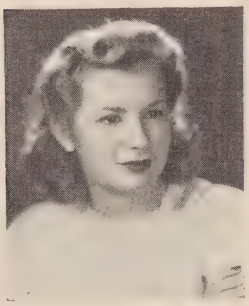


ANGUS PERRY
Centerville

"When skating on thin ice, our safety is our speed."

Angus's appearance belies his true strength, for under an impression of leanness, he is actually a "durable" and skilled athlete. Angus is one of our good-time boys: wherever fun is to be had, there is Angus. He plans to enter the Air Corps upon graduating.

Model Airplane Building 3, 4; Military Drill 3; A. A. 3; National Forensic League 1, 2.



AURELIA PERRY
Centerville

"A sweet content
Passing all wisdom or its fairest flower."

Aurelia is one of the quieter members of our class. Her calm efficiency in business and the fact that she always has a friendly smile have won her much admiration. With these golden characteristics, Aurelia will undoubtedly go a long way in any commercial field.

A. A. 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Clipper Typing Staff 3.

WINFIELD PERSON
Hyannis

"Talk to him of Jacob's ladder and he will ask you the number of steps."

No one can forget the courage displayed by "Win" when he was so ill three years ago, yet came out smiling. His quiet friendship and great perseverance have made him one of the best-liked persons in the senior class. More power to him at Franklin Institute, where he plans to study chemical engineering.

JEAN PETERSON
Centerville

"There was a star danced and under that I was born."

Jean is another of those gals who are well known at the Maritime Academy. However, she, too, has a one and only. Jean expects to go to New York to study to be a model, and oh, brother, will she make an attractive one! No doubt we'll be seeing her face and figure on the cover of Glamour in no time at all.

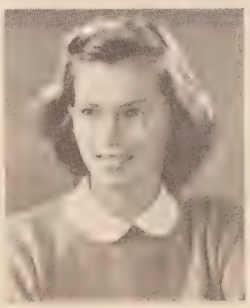
A. A. 1, 2; Glee Club 3; Junior Prom Committee 3; Clipper Staff 3; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, 4.

PHYLLIS PIERCE
Marstons Mills

"I light my candle from their torches."

Phyllis is the soul of honesty, for she says that when she graduates, she will just work and expects to be just working five years from now, too. From the way she has worked at and mastered so well all that stenography, we admit that there is something to be said for her program.

Glee Club 4.



HEDWIG POCIUS
Hyannis

"Well and patiently to perform."

Hedwig is one of our honor students. Perhaps a few years from now she will be teaching an English grammar class, as it seems to be her pet subject. Evidently a spare minute finds little time to creep into Hedwig's day as you can observe from the list of activities below! It is, indeed, wonderful to be gifted with ambition.

PATRICIA POLLOCK
Hyannis

"Silence is the perfectest herald of joy —"

Although "Patsy," as she wishes to be called, seems very quiet and demure to the majority of her schoolmates, we hear that outside of "ye olde schoolhouse" she really lets loose. Evidently she likes to keep us guessing. Patsy is another of our engaged classmates.

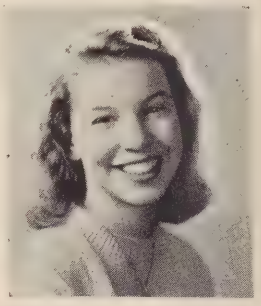
A. A. 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

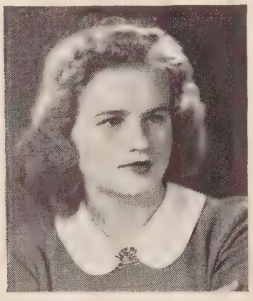
NANCY PUFFER
Barnstable

"A bit of seriousness mixed with a bit of fun."

Although a newcomer to B. H. S., Nancy fast made herself known by getting soon into the swing of things. With a grand combination of ready laughter and savoir faire, Nancy's a real all-round gal. She has excellent taste in clothes and plans to attend a fashion school.

Dance Committee 4; Band 4; Glee Club 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Junior Red Cross Representative 4; Senior Play 4.





LOIS RYDER
Cotuit

"A small chimney is quickly heated."

Lois is a fun-loving classmate, as is evident by her aversion for boring people. She plans to be married and live in New Mexico on a ranch. It is certain that Lois's merry personality will win her many friends wherever she may go. Send us a souvenir from New Mexico, Lois!

Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Model Airplane Class 3.

SALLY SAVERY
Marstons Mills

"Always she has an answer, whether there be an answer or no."

Sally calls herself frank and temperamental, but we cannot recall that she has wounded any of us. We wonder why she is so eager to go to work in the post office. Could it be that she wishes to be as close as possible to the incoming mail from the Army?

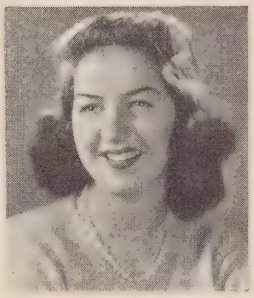
Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Dramatic Club 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Clipper Typing Staff 3.

MARILYN SCUDDER
Cotuit

"Quiet she seems, but is it true?"

To most of us Marilyn has always seemed an extremely reserved, as well as capable, business student. But 'neath this smiling, sphinxy exterior lies a great depth of humor, and hidden behind her serious mien a ready smile.

Glee Club 3, 4.



BETTY ANN SHEPHERD

Hyannis

"I am not only witty in myself, but the cause that wit is in others."

Betty certainly adds spice, if not pepper, to everything she comes in contact with. There is not a more engaging personality in the senior class when one gets to know her. The doings of the Merchant Marine are her constant concern and she's keeping up the morale with daily letters. Betty doesn't know what to do when she gets out of school, but she'll probably work and contribute to that hope chest.

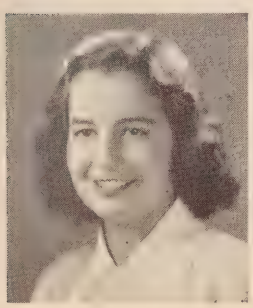
WILLIAM SMITH

Hyannis

"His worth is best reflected in his friendships."

Bill, one of the best-liked and best-natured boys in the senior class, has done much to keep the saying "silence is strength" true. Bill was very active in football, winning the much coveted Hinckle Trophy in his senior year. He plans to attend the Massachusetts Maritime Academy.

A. A. 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Football Squad 1, 2, 3, 4.



MARY SOUZA

Cotuit

"People who make no noise are dangerous."

Mary's unexpected answers and her "unselfconsciousness," together with her buoyant spirit, have made her an indispensible class character. These qualities will help her in the medical profession.

A. A. 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Room Representative 2; Basketball 1, 2, 4; Hockey 1, 2.

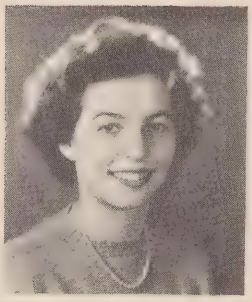
NATALIE SOUZA

Osterville

"Life is not so short but that there is time for courtesy."

Natalie's wide circle of friends belies her retiring manner, for she sees much and makes humorous mental record of it. Her dependability and spirit of co-operation, always evident in high school, should insure her advancement and esteem in that office position to which she is going in Washington.

Glee Club 3, 4; Assistant Manager of Magazine Campaign 4.



DOROTHY STACKHOUSE
Centerville

"Man's best possession is a sympathetic wife."

If Dot had her way, she'd be out on the farm all the time. Perhaps she'd even teach us how to milk a cow. By next September she'll be a "Mrs." and possessed of all the happiness in the world.

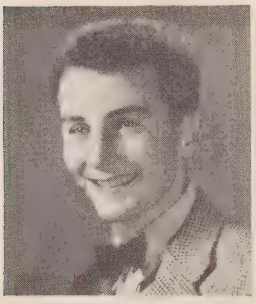
A. A. 1, 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Model Airplane Class 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2.

MARTHA THOMAS
Hyannis

"The world is too much with us."

Martha has revealed little of herself to us here at school, but we hear that she has a rather full life of it outside school, what with taking pictures, dancing, avoiding books, and dreaming about that mysterious trip she will make to Wisconsin about two years from now.

Glee Club 3.



RICHARD THOMPSON
Hyannis

"This man, I thought, had been a lord among wits;
But I find he's only a wit among lords."

Dick is another "he-man" in our class and has often proved the truth of this phrase in his outstanding athletic feats. He is famous for his frequent sermons on "Fords," along with his wild humor, often in evidence. Dick plans to go into the Navy or Merchant Marine upon graduation.

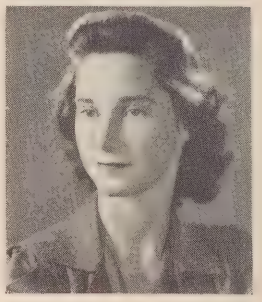
A. A. 2, 3; Football Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3; Military Drill 3; Captain Football 4; Captain Basketball 4.

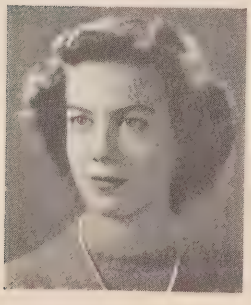
PRISCILLA WALSH
Osterville

"We grant although she had much wit,
She was very shy of using it."

Seemingly demure and of few words, "Poppy" has a wry sense of humor which, with her pleasant ways, makes her a grand friend.

A. A. 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Room Representative 4.





PRISCILLA WARREN
Cotuit

"Compounded of soft-spoken sense and wisdom."

Her friendliness, good taste, and serene cheerfulness have made "Pris" popular with us all. Her capability in both studies and social affairs foretell that she will surely realize her ambitions: a secretarial course and a little house of her own soon afterwards.

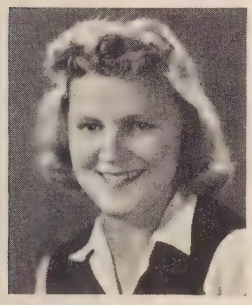
Senior Class Dance Committee 4; Student Council 4; Senior Dramatic Club 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Clipper Staff 3.

ROBERT WHITNEY
Barnstable

"He was a man, which, as Plato saith, is a very inconsistent creature."

"Oops—pardon me!" That's one of Bob's most-used phrases. Seems as if he's always doing something wrong, but we can't help laughing at him 'cause he's really a riot and full of invigorating ideas. He's definitely got something, something only Hedy's been able to capture. Whatever he makes his career, his personality and stick-to-it-iveness will never forsake him and he'll come out on top—grinning.

Valentine Dance Committee 4; A. A. 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Football Squad 3, 4; Baseball Squad 3, 4; Clipper Staff 3; Boxing Tourney 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

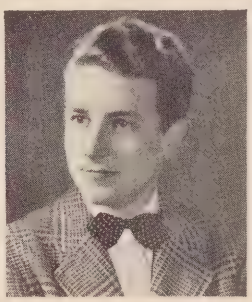


CORINNE WILLMAN
West Barnstable

"Unspoken words are far better than those spoken out of turn."

Corinne's plans for the future are in distinct contrast to her quiet school life. She intends to travel to all parts of the world and see everything. We hope you realize your ambition, Corinne.

Glee Club 3, 4.



RICHARD ZAPPONE
Centerville

"I loaf and invite my soul."

Dick, a trial and tribulation to his teachers if there ever was one, has been, nevertheless, a constant source of amusement in his classes. He says he plans to work with the state department, but on which side of the fence we don't know.

Military Drill 3, 4; Model Airplane Building 3. 4.

RUTH BAKER
Hyannis

"Strongest minds are often those of whom the noisy world hears least."

Although we haven't known Ruth very long, her general air of intelligence and good will have gained our best wishes for her future.

CELINA BURRATI
Hyannis

"A nest of thoughts revealed not."

Celina has been throughout high school one of the outstanding girls in the business course. Quiet, yet efficient and observant, she has been a valuable help in the school office this year.

Orchestra 1, 2; Band 1, 2.

CAMPBELL CHILDS

Centerville

"Speak to the earth and it shall teach thee."

Campbell is one of the "Men's Men" of our class. Hunting and farming provide him with his pleasure. Although Campbell seems rather allergic to homework, we hear that he has made quite a name for himself in the agricultural field at B. H. S.

Future Farmers of America 1, 2, 3, 4.

ELLSWORTH COLEMAN

Hyannis

"Humble and faithful e'er his time."

Witness the man of full and versatile life. When not squiring his girl of six years standing, Ellsworth works on his car (drives it occasionally), listens to musical concerts, works on photography, and tinkers with radios. Apparently not optimistic about the war, he says that he expects to be fighting in the navy five years from now.

Valentine Dance Committee 4; A. A. 2, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee 3.

FLORENCE HANF

Centerville

"'Tis but a part we see and not a whole."

We are all familiar with "Flossie's" bashful smile, even though she has just recently entered our ranks. Apparently the fates are against her because Florence has had to attend both Orleans High School and B. H. S.—and Cape Cod is Flossie's pet aversion. Upon leaving school, she intends to go into nursing.

PATRICIA HANSBERRY

Osterville

"She is pretty to walk with and witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too — to think on."

Shiny black hair, dark snapping eyes, and a gorgeous smile — that's Pat all over. Could be she's one of the causes of the man shortage, for she's always surrounded by seniors, cadets, and a trail of hopeful juniors. Pat intends to make use of her eye for fashions, so we'll probably hear of "Mademoiselle Hansberrie" of Fifth Avenue in a few years.

ACTIVITIES

Barnstable High School Activities Association

THE Activities Association was established nine years ago, in 1935, for the purpose of financing extracurricular activities not sponsored by classes. Its funds are maintained chiefly by the sale of Activities Association tickets and the money received for admissions to football and basketball games. Money garnered thus is not merely used to pay for Barnstable's athletic program, but also to aid other activities not self-supporting, and activities at times needing financial aid.

This year the Activity Association ticket was for the first time sold for one dollar, instead of the usual two. Consequently, a record membership was achieved. Benefits derived from belonging to the Activities Association include admission to all home athletic contests, the annual A. A. Student Council Dance, and a subscription to the three issues of "The Clipper."

The greatest single aim of the Activities Association is, perhaps, the unification of Barnstable High School students into one cohesive organization and the maintenance of one common treasury for all activities. This system has been a boon to our school spirit.

The Student Council

The Barnstable High School Student Council this year renewed activities after occupying, for the most part, an inactive role during 1942-'43. The council, which is composed of nine members — four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores — elected Margie Fisk president and Virginia Backus secretary at the first meeting.

During 1943-44, the student council, whose purpose primarily is to promote understanding between the faculty and student body, undertook the procurement of badly needed reference books. Although the student council was unable to attend the annual student council convention, as it has formerly done, it did manage to hold the annual Student Council A. A. Dance.

MUSIC

During the school year 1943-'44, the musical organizations of Barnstable High School were very active in their fields.

The Barnstable High School Band with a membership, including the twirling corps, of sixty-five persons participated in many affairs. It played frequently at assemblies; and, of course, for all home football games; it performed at the annual Armistice Day and Memorial Day parades; and in addition, participated in U. S. O. activities. In combination with the two orchestras, the band appeared at the annual combined concert in May.

The Barnstable High School Senior Orchestra, having a membership of fifty, appeared at various assemblies throughout the year, participated in the annual concert, and played at the commencement exercises. This year, under the guidance of Mr. Griffiths, it continued the study of symphonic works, primarily the last movement of Beethoven's "Fifth," or "Victory," Symphony.

Orchestra

Active also was the Junior Orchestra, which serves as a training unit for the Senior Orchestra. It played for several assemblies and also participated in the combined concert.

This year a new organization, the Ensemble, was organized to engage at several local gatherings where the High School was to be represented. Composed chiefly of members of the orchestra and band living in Hyannis, it appeared at a number of gatherings, including the U. S. O. anniversary celebration, where it evoked much favorable comment.

Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club this year engaged in various activities in which music was presented. Composed of seventy-two members, all of them juniors and seniors, it participated in several assemblies, including the Christmas assembly; it appeared at the Woman's Club, and also the Rotary Club. Besides these activities, it carried out for special projects the study of several pieces of popular music. As its final activity for the 1943-'44 school year, the club appeared under the direction of Miss Barton at our graduation exercises.

It is impossible to conclude without expressing our appreciation and admiration for Mr. Griffiths, without whose masterful leadership and guidance these musical organizations would not exist.

The "Clipper" Staff

This year the "Clipper" deserves special credit for its good work in carrying on under adverse conditions. Most of last years staff, being seniors this year, were unable to continue as members. In addition, due to the necessities of war, much difficulty was experienced in printing the magazine. However, thanks to the skillful leadership of the two advisers, Mr. Broadbent and Miss Scudder, the "Clipper" faithfully appeared in February. Much credit should be given to the "Clipper" staff, who, though inexperienced for the most part, have co-operated in presenting highly creditable issues of the school magazine to the student body. In summing things up, we give three cheers for the typing and business staff, under Miss Lenore Meehan, for preparing material and financing the paper, nor should we forget our own Andrew Grammaticas, who as editor pro tem gave the publication the benefit of his experience.

Class Play

THE senior play "Junior Miss" concerns vivacious, young Judy Graves and her friend Fuffy Adams, both of whom are extremely concerned about the doings of Judy's parents, her sister, and her Uncle Willis. Judy feels that they need guidance in the crisis through which they are going, for it seems that her father has reached "that dangerous age," and the responsibility of keeping the home together falls upon Judy. With Fuffy's help she manages to start a lasting romance and get her father fired, all at one stroke. Her duty successfully done, she turns her energies to her own problems and circumvents the man shortage in obtaining an escort to a very special dance.

Cheerleaders

THE cheerleaders, sponsored for several years by Miss Noble, are a hard-working group that we hear, strangely, little about in the school. They attend all the football and basketball games to arouse morale-building pep and spirit in the spectators.

In 1942, a group of cheerleaders attended a football game in Nantucket and another in Plymouth, trips which were of special zest, for these girls do not attend many of the off-Cape games.

The leader of the group must be a senior girl who has been a cheerleader the previous year.

Football

THE low point in the cycle, evident in all high school and college football teams once every five or six years, hit our squad this year. Most of the boys of last year's exceptional team having either graduated or entered the armed services, Mr. Shields last fall had to start building another powerful B. H. S. team of "green" material.

Our 1943 footall squad won one game, tied two, and lost five. The coach could schedule only two Cape games this year, both with Yarmouth. Highlights for the boys were the trip to Nashua and the sparkling 41-7 victory over Yarmouth on Thanksgiving Day.

Boys' Basketball

THIS year's court aggregation had a fair season, in which it won eight games and lost six. The basketeers lost twice to Bourne; to Orleans and Falmouth, once; and to Provincetown, twice. The boys showed their aggressiveness in all games and never let up on their opponents. The mighty Provincetown team was given a fright when our boys led at half-time in the Hyannis court contest. In the Cape and Island tournament, the team was defeated in its first contest by Bourne High.

In spite of the loss of most of last year's first and second team, Coach Stevenson did a creditable piece of work in coaching the team to as good a season as it had.

Girls' Basketball

A COMPLETELY victorious season for the girls' basketball team was realized when they came through with the outstanding accomplishment of winning the ten scheduled games with the Cape schools and also of defeating the WAC's of Camp Edwards, by a score of 31-24. The team was built out of a group of inexperienced players by the competent coaching of Miss Katherine Nehubian and the leadership of Captain Sylvia Holmes.
